Camosun College is a comprehensive community college located on the traditional territories of the Coast and Strait Salish peoples serving the people of the Greater Victoria Region of British Columbia. Guided by an inspiring strategic plan and administered by a professional community of talented faculty, staff and senior executives, Camosun enrolls 18,000 learners each year, including over 1,100 Indigenous students and 1,100 International students. The College has an operating budget of over $123 million. Across two campuses, Camosun offers more than 160 certificate, diploma, and bachelor's degree programs in arts, sciences, business, health and human services, trades, technologies, sport education, Indigenous studies and adult upgrading. The College is committed to values of relationship with community, inclusiveness, and respect. As a community, we commit to the process of Indigenization of the college – including both programs and services - and to use this learning to improve the learning experiences for the exceptionally diverse range of student needs and backgrounds present within the Camosun community supporting the commitment to lifelong learning and positive student experiences.

Camosun College values teaching excellence in its faculty and is committed to successful learning for its students.

The School of Health and Human Services, Community, Family and Child Studies Diploma Program (CFCS) is currently accepting resumes for a part-time term faculty position to join a team of educators committed to excellence, collaboration, diversity, and learner-centred education. Courses available as part of this posting include professional practice and service learning.

The CFCS Program is a dynamic, professional, two-year program that leads graduates toward a career as a caring, ethical professional in a wide range of community and social service settings. The curriculum is based on contemporary research and grounded in principles of social justice, strength-based practice, and self-determination.
